This Guide is one of a series of finding aids describing the declassified seized German records deposited in the National Archives. The series was initiated by the Microfilming Project of the Committee for the Study of War Documents of the American Historical Association in cooperation with the National Archives and the Department of the Army. With the termination of the Microfilming Project in July 1963, the National Archives assumed sole responsibility for the reproduction of records and the preparation of Guides.

This is one of a number of Guides projected to describe the records of the German Army field commands. These records are being microfilmed in five groups: Records of Army Groups, Records of Armies, Records of Corps, Records of Divisions, and Occupation and Other Records.

Constituting Part VI of army records, this Guide describes the contents of 67 microfilm rolls reproducing the records of the Nineteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-first, Parachute, and Ligurian Armies for the World War II period. While the bulk of the records covers the campaign in the Northern Theater (Norway, Finland and the northeastern part of the Soviet Union), operations in the West are also described to some extent.

The provenance to which the documents are attributed is the army headquarters that originally kept the file, although a large proportion of the items had in fact been retired by the units to the Heeresarchiv Potsdam for permanent retention. There an accession number was stamped or written on the cover, and it is by this numbering system that the folders were organized in the World War II Records Division and its predecessor, the Departmental Records Branch of the Department of the Army. All folders that had not gone through the Heeresarchiv accessioning process before capture or had never been retired to the Heeresarchiv were given folder numbers in an extension of the Heeresarchiv system using numbers above 75000, but otherwise following the Potsdam pattern. Considerable information on the fate of all German military records during World War II, and especially on several fires with subsequent efforts to reconstruct the files, may be found in the records of the Chef des Heeresarchivs in the German Army High Command. (These records were filmed in T-78, Rolls 1 - 38, and are described in Guide No. 12 of this series.)

The descriptive material for the armies was prepared on cards and each card has been filmed before the folder it describes. The cards for all folders on one roll of film are also filmed at the beginning of that roll. This Guide contains the text of the cards.

A short unit history and an organization index by staff section (Abteilung) precede the file item listing for each army. The unit history has also been filmed at the beginning of each roll of the unit's records.

At the time of the initial filming of the records described in this Guide, documents that were security classified were excluded. Since then, the documents have been declassified and descriptions of them have been included in the Guide. Although the declassified documents have been inserted in their proper numerical order in the "File Item Listing," the roll and 1st frame numbers will be out of numerical order.

The term "Roll" in the Guide refers to the sequence of the film. "1st Frame" gives the frame number of the first page of the folder. The "Item No." is the identification symbol on the original folder. The "Item" provides (a) the abbreviation of the staff section that originated the document, and (b) the title appearing on the document cover or other information providing a general idea of the contents of the item.

The original records have been returned to the Federal Republic of Germany. The microfilms have been deposited as Microcopy T-312 with the Exhibits and Publications Division of the National Archives, Washington, D.C. 20408.

Philip P. Brower served as Editor of the Guide. The descriptions were prepared in part by the staff of the ARA Micro-filming Project under the supervision of Dr. Willard Allen Fletcher, Director of the Project, and in part by Anthony Grassl and Ruth Pantel under the supervision of Donald Spencer. Mrs. Pantel also prepared the stencils.

Armeeoberkommando 19 (Nineteenth Army)

The Nineteenth Army was formed on May 21, 1942 from the former Senior Headquarters 45 (Höh.Kdo.45) and was known until August 12, 1943 as Armeegruppe Felber, after its Commander, General Hans Gustav Felber. For a short period of time, Aug 14-24, 1943, Armeegruppe Felber was designated as Oberkommando v.Sodenstern, with General George v. Sodenstern as Commander. On Aug 24, 1943 the Oberkommando was renamed the Nineteenth Army. Stationed in the Avignon area in South France, the Army controlled the French Mediterranean coast. It withdrew northward in August 1944, and in early 1945 it was responsible for the security of the upper Rhine sector. Other commanders after v.Sodenstern were Generals Wiese, Rasp, H. Foertsch, v. Obstfelder, and Brandenberger. The Army was disbanded on May 6, 1945.

Gebirgs-Armeeoberkommando 20 (Twentieth Mountain Army)

German land, sea and air forces invaded Denmark and Norway on April 9, 1940 under the joint command of Group XXI headed by General Nikolaus von Falkenhorst. The XAI Corps, formed in August 1939 for the Polish Campaign, was the predecessor of Group XXI. The Northern Campaign ended on June 9, 1940 when the Narvik and Harstad areas were finally taken by German troops. Late in 1940, Group XXI was referred to as the Army of Norway (Armeeoberkommando Norwegen), and this designation became official in April 1941. A forward command post for Finland was established at Rovaniemi, Finland on June 19, 1941; a few days before Finland officially joined the Axis. This command post controlled German operations in Northern Finland when German troops took up positions there for the attack on the Soviet Union. Combat troops of this command, including one Finnish corps, launched their attack on Soviet positions on June 29, 1941, one week after the main German assault against the Soviet Union (Operation "Barbarossa") had begun. They had made some advances when the front became more or less static. It was to remain virtually unchanged throughout its existence, extending in a generally southerly direction from a point east of Murmansk and running nearly parallel to the Finnish-Soviet border. On January 20, 1942, the forward command post was abolished and a separate command, the Army of Lapland (Armeeoberkommando Lappland), headed by General Eduard Dietl, was activated. It was renamed Twentieth Mountain Army (Gebirgs AOK 20) on June 22, 1942. Following Dietl's death in an airplane crash on June 25, 1944, General Lothar Rendulic became Commander of the Army. On September 19, 1944, Finland severed its ties with Germany and withdrew from active warfare against the Soviet Union. German troops in Finland, however, were permitted to withdraw unhampered into Norway. On December 18, 1944, the Twentieth Army, which had been responsible for Northern Norway only since its withdrawal from Finland, assumed responsibility for Central and Southern Norway as well and absorbed the still existing Army of Norway (AOK Norwegen). General Franz Boehme became Commander of the Twentieth Army on January 18, 1945. The Army remained in Norway until the capitulation of German forces on May 8, 1945.*

Fallschirm-Armeeoberkommando (Parachute Army)

79

The Parachute Army was formed on May 1, 1944 under the command of General Kurt Student. It was stationed first in Perugia, Italy, then in Berlin, and later in Nancy, France, where it trained and controlled parachute units. In the autumn of 1944 it became operational and took part in operations in Belgium and Holland. It was in Eastern Holland and the Cleve area at the beginning of 1945, and was disbanded on May 5, 1945. Other commanders of the Army were Generals Alfred Schlemm, Günther Blumentritt and Erich Straube.

Armeeoberkommando Ligurien (Army of Liguria)

The Army of Liguria originated probably in 1944 as Armeegruppe Ligurien. In February 1945 it was elevated to army status. It was established as an Italian Fascist army responsible for internal order in northwestern Italy and for the defense of the Franco-Italian frontier. The Army was composed mainly of Italian units but also German. Among the former were the "Italia," "Littoria," "San Marco," and "Monte Rosa" Divisions. The Army's commander was Marshal Rodolfo Graziani.
