INTRODUCTION

The Guides to German Records Microfilmed at Alexandria, VA, constitute a series of finding aids to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) microfilm publications of seized records of German central, regional, and local government agencies and of military commands and units, as well as of the Nazi Party, its component formations, affiliated associations, and supervised organizations. For the most part, these records were created during the period 1920-1945.

The guide series was initiated as a microfilming project of the Committee for the Study of War Documents of the American Historical Association (AHA) in cooperation with the National Archives and the Department of the Army. With the termination of AHA participation in July 1963, the National Archives assumed sole responsibility for the reproduction of records and the preparation of guides.

Guide No. 94, is Part X of Records of the German Armed Forces High Command (Oberkommando der Wehrmacht - OKW) and describes records reproduced on 42 rolls of NARA Microfilm Publication T77 (rolls 1458-1498 and 1575) which are part of the National Archives Collection of Seized Enemy Records, 1941-, Record Group 242. Parts I-IX constitute Guides Nos. 7, 17-19, 78, 80, and 84-86.

The majority of records described in Guide No. 94 (rolls 1458-1498) were created or collected by the Legal Branch (Wehrmachtsrechtsabteilung) of the German Armed Forces High Command (Oberkommando der Wehrmacht/OKW). Roll 1575 includes records of the OKW Cipher Branch (Chiffrierstelle).

Legal Branch records described here consist chiefly of files compiled for the investigation of Allied breaches of international law in the treatment of German (or Axis) prisoners of war. These investigative records include correspondence, reports, newspaper clippings, questionnaires, photographs, and affidavits sworn by German POWs returned from Allied internment camps in North Africa, Algeria, the United States, Canada, France, England, and the Soviet Union. Some POW material was submitted by neutral sources such as the International Red Cross and representatives of the Swiss Government.

Other Legal Branch records include reports of alleged battlefield atrocities, mainly in the Soviet Union, but with some documentation pertaining to operations in Belgium, the Netherlands, France, North Africa, and on the island of Crete; and evidence documenting a wide range of alleged Allied violations of international law including the bombing of civilian populations and cultural targets, the wearing of German Army uniforms, the use of expanding ("dum-dum") and explosive ammunition, the alleged misuse of the International Red Cross insignia, and attacks on hospitals, hospital ships, and ambulances. There is also a significant amount of material on the alleged mistreatment of ethnic Germans (Volksdeutscher) in Poland. A small amount of Legal Branch material is made up of intraagency correspondence and records concerning legal procedures, codes of military justice, and German occupation policies in various areas.

Records of the OKW Cipher Branch found on roll 1575 include a 1925 German study of cryptologic methods and thirty-one quarterly reports for the period October 1925-December 1933, which describe the interception and decrypting of various codes used by foreign powers.

The original descriptions for microfilming were prepared by John Strekel and revised for this guide by Amy Schmidt. After filming, the original records described in this guide were returned to the Federal Republic of Germany and deposited at the Bundesarchiv-Abteilung Militärarchiv in Freiburg/Breisgau. The National Archives has retained a copy of the microfilm and makes it available to researchers in accordance with applicable access conditions.

CAPTURED GERMAN AND RELATED RECORDS IN THE NATIONAL ARCHIVES (As of 1993)

The National Archives holds over 30,000 rolls of microfilm reproducing captured German and related records as described below. Reference copies of the microfilm may be consulted without charge in the microfilm reading room of the National Archives Building at Eighth and Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, DC, during the hours of 8:45 a.m. to 9:45 p.m., Monday through Friday, and 8:45 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on Saturday. For suggestions on citing microfilm, see page xxii of this guide; for ordering specific rolls or entire series, except those containing privileged material ("R" rolls), follow the instructions on page xxv.

A history of the American and Allied, public and private, projects in which these records were created or assembled, exploited, described, and microfilmed is to be found in: Captured German and Related Records, A National Archives Conference, ed. Robert Wolfe (Athens, Ohio: Ohio University Press, 1974). xix and 279 pp. For more detailed reference information on subject matter, please write to Center for Captured German and Related Records (NNG), National Archives and Records Administration, Washington, DC 20408, call 202-501-5667, or fax 202-501-5778.

Warning:

The original paper records have been returned to the country of origin. A relatively small number of these papers may have been of private origin; the fact of their seizure is not believed to divest their original owners of any literary property rights in them. Anyone, therefore, who publishes them in whole or in part without permission may be held liable for infringement of property rights.

III. NATIONAL ARCHIVES COLLECTION OF WORLD WAR II WAR CRIMES RECORDS, RECORD GROUP 238

In Europe, the United States conducted war crimes trials under three jurisdictions: that of the International Military Tribunal (IMT) at Nürnberg (RG 238), that of the U.S. military tribunals at Nürnberg (RG 238), and that of the U.S. Army courts (RG 153 and RG 338). The records of the trials at Nürnberg generally consist of transcripts of the proceedings; prosecution and defense exhibits; interrogation records; document books; and court papers including official court files, minute books, order and judgment books, and clemency petitions. In addition, the Nürnberg trial records include the prosecution document series from which most of the prosecution exhibits and some defense exhibits were drawn. Descriptive pamphlets (DP) and Special Lists are noted for many of the listed microfilm publications.

Records of International Military Tribunal

The nearly complete transcript of proceedings of the IMT at Nürnberg and most of the documentary evidence have been published in Trial of the Major War Criminals Before the International Military Tribunal (Nürnberg, 1947) 42 vols. A NARA Publication PI 21 Preliminary Inventory of the Records of the United States Counsel for the Prosecution of Axis Criminality is also available. NARA also holds motion pictures, photographs, and sound recordings of the IMT proceedings at Nürnberg.

Records of the U.S. Army War Crimes Trials in Europe

War crimes trials records for Germany were also collected or generated by the U.S. 3d and 7th Armies initially, then by special war crimes sections of the Judge Advocate General (JAG), Europe. Because these sections sent reports and other materials to Washington, some of the same material is in RG 153, Records of the Judge Advocate General (Army), and has proven to be a useful source for filling in gaps discovered in the RG 338 records. While materials from RG 153 are frequently found in the microfilmed publications listed below, in each case the great bulk of the records filmed come from RG 338.

SUGGESTIONS FOR CITING MICROFILM OF CAPTURED GERMAN AND RELATED RECORDS IN THE NATIONAL ARCHIVES OF THE UNITED STATES

The National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) is frequently asked to provide recommendations regarding information to be included in footnotes and other references to records among its holdings. The following suggestions should serve this purpose and also help our staff in locating the records thus cited.

Records

Because of the great variety and complexity of some archival material, there are no convenient models that would be applicable to all records. The initial citation, however, might consist of those of the following elements applicable in each instance: item, file unit or subseries, series title, originating office (and the administrative units of which that office is a part), name of collection or record group number and title, and depository. Except for placing the cited item first, there is no general agreement on the sequence of the remaining elements in the citation. Publishers, professional journals, and graduate faculties all prescribe their own style. Whatever sequence is adopted, however, should be used consistently throughout the same work. If in doubt, the researcher should confer with an archivist regarding elements that may be necessary to identify adequately specific records being cited.

Microfilm Publications

Citation to records reproduced in National Archives microfilm publications should provide, in general, the same information as suggested above, but with sufficient additional information to identify the particular microfilm publication as well as roll and frame numbers, if applicable.

Microfilm publications of foreign records seized during World War II involve such peculiarities of identification that largely individualized suggested systems of citation have been developed for them. The following examples suggest both a form of initial citation and of subsequent citations of the same document for each of five major microfilm projects reproducing captured German and related records. The form for the bibliography, which is not illustrated below, could be some appropriate modification of the initial citation, but should also include the National Archives record group title and number, and the title and number of the microfilm publication, e.g., National Archives Collection of World War II War Crimes Records (Nuernberg), Record Group 238, U.S. v. Otto Ohlendorf et al, Microfilm Publication M895, 38 rolls; National Archives Collection of Foreign Records Seized 1941- , Record Group 242, Records of the Reich Ministry of Economics, Microfilm Publication T71, 148 rolls.

The serial number is the essential identification, whether the serial is of the interchangeable unlettered or H serials, or of the B,C,F,K,L, and M serials. The terms reel, container, or roll are acceptable variations, with the last preferred by the National Archives. With the Tripartite Project microfilm, National Archives Microfilm Publication T120, it is imperative to distinguish between serial and roll numbers, and the Catalog of Files and Microfilm of the German Foreign Ministry Archives, 1920-1945, 4 vols., has as a supplement to each volume, a National Archives serial-roll conversion list. The Public Record Office in London uses the same serial and frame numbers, although not always the same roll numbers, and the microfilm publication symbols GFM 2-5 instead of T120, to identify the Tripartite Project microfilm. The other Whaddon Hall microfilm projects use the same number for serial and roll, as the SA (Saint Antony's College project) serial example, given above, indicates; the National Archives has substituted microfilm publication number for project symbols.

PG number is the essential record item number; the National Archives T1022 roll number is sufficient microfilm identification. The "T-" and "TA-" prefixes indicate the original U.S. Navy microfilm designation (for World War I German Navy records the prefix "TA-" is used) and is included for roll verification. There are no frame numbers in this microfilm publication.
