No. 77. Records of the National Socialist German Labor Party

(Nationalsozialistische Deutsche Arbeiterpartei--NSDAP)

Part IV

National Archives and Records Service
General Services Administration
Washington: 1980

This finding aid has been prepared by the National Archives as part of its program of facilitating the use of records in its custody.

The microfilm described in this guide may be consulted at the National Archives, where it is identified as Microfilm Publication T81. Those desiring to purchase microfilm should write to the Publications Sales Branch (NEPS), National Archives (GSA), Washington, DC 20408.

Some of the papers reproduced on the microfilm referred to in this and other guides of the same series may have been of private origin. The fact of their seizure is not believed to divest their original owners of any literary property rights in them. Anyone, therefore, who publishes them in whole or in part without permission of their authors may be held liable for infringement of such literary property rights.

The Guides to German Records Microfilmed at Alexandria, Va. constitute a series of finding aids to the National Archives and Records Service (NARS) microfilms of seized records of German central, regional, and local government agencies and of military commands and units, as well as of the Nazi Party, its component formations, affiliated associations, and supervised organizations.

The guide series was initiated by the microfilming project of the Committee for the Study of War Documents of the American Historical Association (AHA) in cooperation with NARS and the Department of the Army. With the termination of AHA participation in July 1963, NARS assumed sole responsibility for the reproduction of records and the preparation of guides.

The records described in Guide No. 77, Part IV of Guides to Records of the National Socialist German Labor Party (Nationalsozialistische Deutsche Arbeiterpartei: "Nazi Party"), are reproduced on 53 rolls of NARS Microfilm Publication T81. Parts I-III are Guides 3, 20, and 35.

The records described in this guide presumably derive from the files of various Nazi Party offices, component formations, or supervised organizations: Oberste SA Fuehrung der NSDAP; NSDAP Partei-Kanzlei; NSDAP Hauptarchiv, including documents acquired from the Rehse Archiv; the Aussenpolitische Amt; and studies from the Volksbund fuer das Deutschtum im Ausland (VDA). All of this material is fragmentary and sometimes hard to identify. Because microfilm cannot be rearranged, the descriptions follow the order of filming.

The material on the Sturmabteilung (SA) ("brownshirts") is primarily about the absorption of smaller organizations into its ranks during the years 1932-33 and the later continuing struggle of the SA to maintain its independence within a growing party and state hierarchy, a struggle that can be seen in documents dating into the war years.

The records of the NSDAP Hauptarchiv are very mixed, as are the documents from the Rehse Archiv, which may have been incorporated into the NSDAP archives at some point. Probably the most interesting records are those relating to matters before 1932, such as instructions and speech materials furnished to NSDAP propagandists. In the NSDAP Hauptarchiv records are some interesting, though damaged and incomplete, press cuttings and anonymous reports on the Bavarian revolution, 1918-19, and on Nazi Party involvement in referendums and plebiscites in Bavaria and elsewhere in Germany during the Weimar era.

The material from the Rehse Archiv ranges from propaganda handbills, distributed before the Battle of Leipzig in 1813, to routine correspondence on acquisition of materials in the 1920's. Probably the most interesting material is for the period 1918-22, which, though fragmentary and not easily identifiable, gives a somewhat broader view of events than the NSDAP files.

The material from the Aussenpolitische Amt concerns such collaborators as Laval and Quisling and contains reports on differing opinions of party leaders (Schickedanz, Terboven, Rosenberg, etc.) about treatment of collaborators. Also included are a few documents on the Organization of Ukrainian Nationalists (O.U.N.) covering the period 1935-41.

The records of the VDA (known as Verein fuer das Deutschtum im Ausland from 1918 to 1933) consist of studies, articles, and publications on the Saxon conquest of Pomerania from Poland in the 10th century; German settlements in Rumania, Bulgaria, Slovakia, and the Austro-Hungarian territory during the period 1645-1865; the history of the Ukraine and Hungary; race problems in Poland; the Polish Army in France, 1939-40; the "Organization of Poles Abroad"; Italy's suppression of South Tyrol; the question of the Polish Corridor; and information on ethnic Germans abroad.

Many of the records of these Nazi Party offices and component formations, particularly those of the Partei-Kanzlei (the head office of the Nazi Party), consist of Mitteilungsblaetter and Verordnungsblaetter (official information bulletins, regulations, and decrees) and Presseberichte (press reports). Although the records are often marked "Geheim" or "fuer Gauleiter," they consist of information and excerpts from general legislation to be disseminated. None of these files are complete, and most are merely restatements of existing policies, legislation passed, or information received in ministries or higher party offices.

The INDEX, including instructions for its use, begins on page 22. The index is primarily an archival index to this guide and only indirectly to the microfilmed documents it describes. Any attempt to index the massive volume of these documents in the comprehensive manner of a book index would encumber or bloat the index and make it difficult to use. This index was computer formatted and printed from simultaneous input of keywords of the individual record item descriptions and was supplemented with references, cross-references, and explanatory subheadings. The full index was then reproduced from the master copies by photographic offset printing.

A data sheet describing each record item was microfilmed immediately preceding the document it describes. The data sheets for all documents on one roll of film were again filmed as a finding aid at the beginning of that roll. The information contained on these data sheets was used as a reference in compiling descriptive entries for the guide, but the descriptive entries were considerably revised because so many of the data sheet descriptions were prepared hastily to keep pace with the filming and restitution schedules.

The CONTENTS column on the pages containing records descriptions provides (a) the name of the organization or office that originated the document, (b) the German title appearing on the folder cover, and (c) a general description of the document's content. The inclusive dates of the document or the specific date of an original event, publication, or of an issuance are given under the DATES column; the ITEM NO. column gives the identification symbol that is on the original folder; the ROLL column gives the T81 roll number on which the document is filmed; and the 1ST FRAME column gives the frame number of the first page of the document. Multiple folders for documents of one type were given a single description, but the item number, roll, and 1st frame were listed for each document.

The original records have been returned to the Federal Republic of Germany for deposit in the Bundesarchiv in Koblenz. The master microfilm negatives of publication T81 have been deposited with the Publications Sales Branch (NEPS), National Archives and Records Service (GSA), Washington, DC 20408, from which copies of specific rolls may be purchased. Reference copies may be consulted in the microfilm reading room at the National Archives Building. For suggestions for citing microfilm, see page ix; for instructions for ordering microfilm, see page 37.

The descriptions in this guide were written by Petronilla Hawes, drawing in part on notations made by Miriam Haskett and Charles Gordon. Mrs. Hawes also improvised and prepared the input data for the computer-printed index. Harry L. Hickman and Annis K. Olsen were the editors. The computer input scheme is a modification of the SPINDEX program.

SUGGESTIONS FOR CITING MICROFILM OF CAPTURED GERMAN AND RELATED RECORDS
IN THE NATIONAL ARCHIVES OF THE UNITED STATES

The National Archives and Records Service is frequently asked to provide recommendations regarding information to be included in footnotes or other references to records among its holdings. The following suggestions should serve this purpose and also help our staff in locating the records thus cited.

Records

Because of the great variety and complexity of some archival material, there are no convenient models that would be applicable to all records. The initial citation, however, might consist of those of the following elements applicable in each instance: item, file unit, or subseries, series title, originating office (and the administrative units of which that office is a part) name of collection or record group number and title, and depository. Except for placing the cited item first, there is no general agreement on the sequence of the remaining elements in the citation. Publishers, professional journals, and graduate faculties all prescribe their own style. Whatever sequence is adopted, however, should be used consistently throughout the same work. If in doubt, the researcher should confer with an archivist regarding elements that may be necessary to identify adequately specific records being cited.

Microfilm Publications

Citation to records reproduced in National Archives microfilm publications should provide, in general, the same information as suggested above, but with sufficient additional information to identify the particular microfilm publication as well as roll and frame numbers, if applicable.

Microfilm publications of foreign records seized during World War II involve such peculiarities of identification that largely individualized suggested systems of citation have been developed for them. The following examples suggest both a form of initial citation and of subsequent citations of the same document for each of five major microfilm projects reproducing captured German and related records; the form for the bibliography, which is not illustrated below, could be some appropriate modification of the initial citation, but should also include the National Archives record group title and number, and the title and number of the microfilm publication, e.g., National Archives Collection of World War II War Crimes Records (Nuernberg), Record Group 238, U.S. v. Otto Ohlendorf, et al., Microfilm Publication M895, 38 rolls; National Archives Collection of Foreign Records Seized 1941-, Record Group 242, Records of the Reich Ministry of Economics, Microfilm Publication T71, 148 rolls.

Item numbers such as EAP 173-a-10/22a, or OKW 1015 are optional and serial numbers unnecessary. Frames are sometimes unnumbered.

2. Foreign Ministry Archives and records of the Reichskanzlei filmed at Whaddon Hall.

Initial citation:

The serial number is the essential identification, whether the serial is of the interchangeable unlettered or H serials, or of the B,C,F,K,L, and M serials. The terms reel, container or roll are acceptable variations, with the last preferred by the National Archives. With the Tripartite Project microfilm, National Archives Microfilm Publication T120, it is imperative to distinguish between serial and roll numbers, and the Catalog of Files and Microfilm of the German Foreign Ministry Archives, 1920-1945, 4 vols., has as a supplement to each volume, a National Archives serial-roll conversion list. The Public Records Office in London uses the same serial and frame numbers, although not always the same roll numbers, and the microfilm publication symbols GFM 2-5 instead of T120, to identify the Tripartite Project microfilm. The other Whaddon Hall microfilm projects use the same number for serial and roll, as the SA (Saint Antony's College project) serial example, given above, indicates; the National Archives has substituted microfilm publication number for project symbols.

3. Records from the German Naval Archives microfilmed for the United States Navy at the Admiralty, London.

Subsequent citations:

PG 64856, T1022/650.

PG number is the essential record item number; either the TA number or the T1022 roll number is sufficient microfilm identification. There are no frame numbers in this microfilm publication.

DATA ON ETHNIC GERMANS IN THE USSR, 1941-1943

Reproduced on T-81 roll 739 are 20 folders of village census data for ethnic Germans living in parts of the southern USSR occupied by German forces during the 1941-43 period. Each folder contains the census data for one village and typically includes individual names of residents, as well as names of individuals killed or deported by Soviet authorities and summary data on community social and agricultural resources. A summary description precedes the folders.

Similar data for 15 additional folders, together with consolidated statistical data for ethnic German residents in larger districts in the German-occupied Ukraine for the same period, are reproduced on succeeding roll 740.

Beg. frame ca. 0006

Kommando Dr. (Karl) Stumpp, "Sippenkundliche und volksbiologische Bestandsaufnahme und Pflege des Deutschtums in der Ukraine"

Reproduced on this roll are twenty folders of original German records containing census and other data for villages of ethnic Germans residing in the German-occupied portions of the Ukraine during the 1941-43 period. The records for each Village typically include: a family register (Familienverzeichnis); a full census of inhabitants, with gender and age indicated Einwohnerliste mit Altersaufbau; lists of names of inhabitants killed, exiled, deported, or died of starvation under Soviet authority; a summary history with data on available community and agricultural resources (Dorfbericht); a statistical summary of the community's age and gender distribution (Altersaufbau); and a village map indicating the residences of specific families. (Dorfplan). Often a table of contents is provided at the beginning of the folder. The census data also indicates religious preferences (e.g., Lutheran, Roman Catholic, Mennonite) and identifies inhabitants who are Jewish; ethnic Ukrainian, or mixed parentage. For some villages, lists of those conscripted into the Red Army are also included .. For other villages, only partial census data is available. Similar records for an additional fifteen villages are reproduced on succeeding roll 740.

Most of the information consists of handwritten entries on prepared forms. For a few villages, the entries have been typed. Each village is identified by name and by the names of the county (Rayon), district (Kreisgebiet) and region (Generalbezirk) in which it was located within the civil administration of the Reichskommissariat Ukraine established by the German occupation. All designations follow the German name of the village (often there was a Ukrainian or Russian alternate name) and the German transliterations of Slavic names (e.g., "Dnjepropetrowsk" for Dniproprostrovsk, "Kirwoi Rog" for Kryvyy Rih). Of the 35 villages for which census data is reproduced on rolls 739-740, 27 were located in the Generalbezirk Dnjepropetrowsk (13 in the single Rayon of Friesendorf, Kreisgebiet Pjatichatki); seven villages were located in Generalbezirk Nikolajew (for one village insufficient data is available to determine its location). Most of the census data was compiled during the period March-October 1942, although some documents are dated as early as November 1941 and as late as March 1943.

The records were prepared by the "Sonderkommando des Reichskommissars für die besetzten Ostgebiete für Russland," more commonly known as "Kommando Dr. Stumpp" after its director, Dr. Karl Stumpp. Stumpp was an official who had served in the Forschungsstelle des Russlanddeutschtums (Research Center on Ethnic Germans in Russia) within the Deutsches Ausland-Institut (DAI), which compiled census data and other information on ethnic Germans living in the USSR during the 1936-39 period. (Records of the Forschungsstelle were subsequently microfilmed by the National Archives with other DAI records as part of National Archives Microfilm Publication T81, Records of the Deutsches Ausland-Institut, Stuttgart, on rolls 632-37, and described in Guides to German Records Microfilmed at Alexandria, Va., No. 21 [Washington, DC, 1959], pp. 176-77.) In November 1941 Stumpp and a staff of approximately 80 civilian specialists were attached to the newly-established Reich Ministry for the Occupied Eastern Territories to continue the work of registering ethnic German communities in those portions of the Soviet Union occupied by German forces.

The census data collected by Kommando Dr. Stumpp during the 1941-43 period was apparently not integrated with the earlier DAI census records, but remained as a discrete collection through the end of the war. Following their seizure by American forces, most of the Kommando Dr. Stumpp census records were donated without prior filming to the Manuscript Division of the Library of Congress. In 1983, following microfilming of the records, the originals were restituted by the Library of Congress to the Bundesarchiv, where they were added as Akten Nrn. 616-633 to the collections in Bestand R 6, Reichsministerium für die besetzten Ostgebiete.

The census data reproduced on rolls 739-740, however, had been removed from the 1941-43 series in 1946 by U.S. Army intelligence authorities and added to an intelligence library collection. These materials were subsequently accessioned by the National Archives as part of the formerly security-classified intelligence reference publications ("P" File), 1940-1945, Records of War Department General and Special Staffs, Record Group 165. Their significance as part of a larger collection was not realized until researchers of the Germans From Russia Heritage Society identified them in the context of related records in Germany. Following filming, the originals of these census reports will be restituted to the Bundesarchiv.

The remaining census data collected by Kommando Dr. Stumpp during the 1941-43 period is available on microfilm at the Manuscript Division of the Library of Congress among the Captured German Documents - Reichsministerium für die besetzten Ostgebiete, reel nos. 1-8; a finding aid is available at that institution. Detailed organizational data on the structure of the German civil administration in the occupied Ukraine, during this period can be found among the records of the Reich Ministry for the Occupied Eastern Territories, National Archives Microfilm Publication T454, roll 92, frames 847-855 and 933-944. Census data compiled by the DAI for ethnic German villages in Russia during the 1936-39 period is reproduced on T81 rolls 635-636.

Attached is a list of the specific villages reproduced on this roll, including the locations of each by rayon, Kreisgebiet, and Generalbezirk, as well as the date(s) when the census data was compiled and the approximate number of images.

DATA ON ETHNIC GERMANS IN THE USSR, 1941-1943

Reproduced on T-81 roll 740 are 15 folders of village census data for ethnic Germans living in parts of the southern USSR occupied by German forces during the 1941-43 period. These folders complement similar records for 20 other villages reproduced on preceding roll 739. Each folder contains the census data for one village and typically includes individual names of residents, as well as names of individuals killed or deported by Soviet authorities and summary data on community social and agricultural resources. A summary description precedes the folders.

Also reproduced on roll 740 are five folders of consolidated statistical data for ethnic German residents in larger districts in the German-occupied Ukraine for the same period. A summary description precedes these materials.

Five folders containing consolidated statistical data for ethnic German residents in 10 rayons (counties) or Kreisgebiete (districts) of the Reichskommissariat Ukraine (the occupied Ukraine under German civil administration). The data is presented in statistical charts and tables that summarize ethnic composition (Germans, Ukrainians, Jews, mixed), gender and age distribution, economic aspects (arable land, livestock inventories, average harvests, debts), health data, and statistics on ethnic Germans imprisoned, deported, killed, or died of starvation under Soviet authority. The amount of data varies by district. The most detailed tables are dated November 1942-March 1943, but many tables are undated. A list of the five folders and their contents follows.

I N D E X

This index consists of entries derived from the descriptive matter of this guide, rather than directly from the record items. This index was computer formatted and printed from simultaneous input of keywords of the individual item descriptions and was supplemented with references and explanatory subheadings. The full index was then reproduced from the master copies by photographic offset printing. The ultimate objective of producing cumulative indexes dictated certain limitations on their format, structure, and nature; further complications were created by the need to cope with two languages, abbreviations, and page locations of descriptive materials as well as microfilm roll and frame locations of the records described.

Format

Economy of space and ease of reading are the reasons for the asymmetry of the broad horizontal layout of the descriptive text of the guide and the narrow vertical format of the index.

Language

Although the index does not pretend to bilinguality, it refers to the records in the original German and the generally accepted English equivalents, often using the original German word or its abbreviation as the index term and the English word as a cross-reference term. For purposes of automation, the diphthong is used instead of the umlaut; for example, Nürnberg becomes Nuernberg.

Keywords

Keywords include names of individuals; geographical terms; names of Nazi Party offices, component formations, affiliated associations, and supervised organizations; publication titles; terms of Nazi Party functions and events; and terms relating to historical events. For each keyword a chronological sort, page number reference(s), and document designations as listed in the guide are given.

Cross-References

In order to take advantage of the cumulative and repetitive capabilities of automatic data processing in compiling future individual and multiple guide indexes, cross-references of broad or universal application are preferred, although this sometimes results in general references to types of entries for which there may be no specific examples in the index of this guide.

Dates

The years, months, and days under the DATES column are either (1) the span date of the entire record item listed under the corresponding CONTENTS column rather than the specific date or dates of each index entry or (2) the date of an original event, publication, or specific issuance where, for chronological computer sort, repetition of the single date is necessary; 00-fillers were used where the specific month and day were undeterminable.

Item, Roll, and 1st Frame

Each item number represents the original document filmed in NARS Microfilm Publication T81. In the 1ST FRAME column is the first frame of the entire record item rather than the exact frame on which the indexed entry occurs. An attempt to give exact microfilm frame location(s) for each entry frequently would produce an index cumbersome to the point of uselessness as a finding aid. It is more efficient for the researcher to proceed from the index term to the page containing the record description or to the microfilm roll and first frame reproducing the record item. Once at the first frame, the researcher must proceed to the particular frame containing the specific reference indicated by the index entry.

RECORDS OF THE DEUTSCHES AUSLAND-INSTITUT, STUTTGART: CENSUS
DATA ON ETHNIC GERMANS IN THE USSR, 1941-1943

Reproduced on T-81 roll 740 are 15 folders of village census data for ethnic Germans living in parts of the southern USSR occupied by German forces during the 1941-43 period. These folders complement similar records for 20 other villages reproduced on preceding roll 739. Each folder contains the census data for one village and typically includes individual names of residents, as well as names of individuals killed or deported by Soviet authorities and summary data on community social and agricultural resources. A summary description precedes the folders.

Also reproduced on roll 740 are five folders of consolidated statistical data for ethnic German residents in larger districts in the German-occupied Ukraine for the same period. A summary description precedes these materials.

Kommando Dr. (Karl) Stumpp, "Sippenkundliche und volksbiologische Bestandsaufnahme und Pflege des Deutschtums in der Ukraine"

Fifteen folders of original German records containing census and other data for villages of ethnic Germans residing in the German-occupied portions of the Ukraine during the 1941-43 period, complementing the 20 folders of similar data filmed on preceding roll 739. The records for each village typically include: a family register (Familienverzeichnis); a full census of inhabitants, with gender and age indicated (Einwohnerliste mit Altersaufbau); lists of names of inhabitants killed, exiled, deported, or died of starvation under Soviet authority; a summary history with data on available community and agricultural resources (Dorfbericht); a statistical summary of the community's age and gender distribution (Altersaufbau); and a village map indicating the residences of specific families (Dorfplan). Often a table of contents is provided at the beginning of the folder. The census data also indicates religious preferences (e.g., Lutheran, Roman Catholic, Mennonite) and identifies inhabitants who are Jewish, ethnic Ukrainian, or mixed parentage. For some villages, lists of those conscripted into the Red Army are also included. For other villages, only partial census data is available.

Most of the information consists of handwritten entries on prepared forms. For a few villages, the entries have been typed. Each village is identified by name and by the names of the county (Rayon), district (Kreisgebiet) and region (Generalbezirk) in which it was located within the civil administration of the Reichskommissariat Ukraine established by the German occupation. All designations follow the German name of the village (often there was a Ukrainian or Russian alternate name) and the German transliterations of Slavic names (e.g., "Dnjepropetrowsk" for Dniproprostrovsk, "Kirwoi Rog" for Kryvyy Rih). Of the 35 villages for which census data is reproduced on rolls: 739-740, 27 were located in the Generalbezirk Dnjepropetrowsk (13 in the single Rayon of Friesendorf, Kreisgebiet Pjatichatki); seven villages were located in Generalbezirk Nikcolajew (for one village insufficient data is available to determine its location). Most of the census data was compiled during the period March-October 1942, although some documents are dated as early as November 1941 and as late as March 1943.

The records were prepared by the "Sonderkommando des Reichskommissars für die besetzten Ostgebiete für Russland," more commonly known as "Kommando Dr. Stumpp" after its director, Dr. Karl Stumpp. Stumpp was an official who had served in the Forschungsstelle des Russlanddeutschtums (Research Center on Ethnic Germans in Russia) within the Deutsches Ausland-Institut (DAI), which compiled census data and other information on ethnic Germans living in the USSR during the 1936-39 period. (Records of the Forschungsstelle were subsequently microfilmed by the National Archives with other DAI records as part of National Archives Microfilm Publication T81, Records of the Deutsches Ausland-Institut, Stuttgart, on rolls 632-37, and described in Guides to German Records Microfilmed at Alexandria, Va., No. 21 [Washington, DC, 1959], pp. 176-77.) In November 1941 Stumpp and a staff of approximately 80 civilian specialists were attached to the newly-established Reich Ministry for the Occupied Eastern Territories to continue the work of registering ethnic German communities in those portions of the Soviet Union occupied by German forces.

The census data collected by Kommando Dr. Stumpp during the 1941-43 period was apparently not integrated with the earlier DAI census records, but remained as a discrete collection through the end of the war. Following their seizure by American forces, most of the Kommando Dr. Stumpp census records were donated without prior filming to the Manuscript Division of the Library of Congress. In 1983, following microfilming of the records, the originals were restituted by the Library of Congress to the Bundesarchiv, where they were added as Akten Nrn. 616-633 to the collections in Bestand R 6, Reichsministerium für die besetzten Ostgebiete.

The census data reproduced on rolls 739-740, however, had been removed from the 1941-43 series in 1946 by U.S. Army intelligence authorities and added to an intelligence library collection. These materials were subsequently accessioned by the National Archives as part of the formerly security-classified intelligence reference publications ("P" File), 1940-1945, Records of War Department General and Special Staffs, Record Group 165. Their significance as part of a larger collection was not realized until researchers of the Germans From Russia Heritage Society identified them in the context of related records in Germany. Following filming, the originals of these census reports will be restituted to the Bundesarchiv.

The remaining census data collected by Kommando Dr. Stumpp during the 1941-43 period is available on microfilm at the Manuscript Division of the Library of Congress among the Captured German Documents - Reichsministerium für die besetzten Ostgebiete, reel nos. 1-8; a finding aid is available at that institution. Detailed organizational data on the structure of the German civil administration in the occupied Ukraine during this period can be found among the records of the Reich Ministry for the Occupied Eastern Territories, National Archives Microfilm Publication T454., roll 92, frames 847-855 and 933-944. Census data compiled by the DAI for ethnic German villages in Russia during the 1936-39 period is reproduced on T81 rolls 635-636.

Attached is a list of the specific villages reproduced on this roll, including the locations of each by rayon, Kreisgebiet, and Generalbezirk, as well as ;the date(s) when the census data was compiled and the approximate number of images .

Five folders containing consolidated statistical data for ethnic German residents in 10 rayons (counties) or Kreisgebiete (districts) of the Reichskommissariat Ukraine (the occupied Ukraine under German civil administration). The data is presented in statistical charts and tables that summarize ethnic composition (Germans, Ukrainians, Jews, mixed), gender and age distribution, economic aspects (arable land, livestock inventories, average harvests, debts), health data, and statistics on ethnic Germans imprisoned, deported, killed, or died of starvation under Soviet authority. The amount of data varies by district. The most detailed tables are dated November 1942-March 1943, but many tables are undated. A list of the five folders and their contents follows.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ORDERING MICROFILM

National Archives Microfilm Publication T81, Rolls 686-738 Records of the National Socialist German Labor Party, Part IV

Microfilm copies of one or more rolls of microfilm may be purchased at the current price of $12 a roll. This price includes postage or shipping costs on orders sent by surface mail within the United States or to Mexico or Canada and on small orders sent to other countries. Additional costs for air mail shipment will be quoted on request. Orders of 40 rolls or more sent to foreign countries other than Canada or Mexico are subject to an added 5% shipping charge.

Checks or Money orders for microfilm should accompany the order. They should be made payable to the General Services Administration (NEPS) and should be sent to the Cashier, NARS, GSA, Washington, DC 20408. Persons ordering microfilm from outside the United States or its possessions should make their remittance by international money order or check drawn in United States dollars on a bank in the United States and payable to the General Services Administration (NEPS). Each order should specify Microfilm Publication T81, the roll number or numbers, and the price.

The National Archives microfilm publication program is financed from a trust fund established by the National Archives Trust Fund Board Act (44 U.S.C. 2307). The act permits the preparation and reproduction of source materials for a price covering their cost plus 10 percent. Proceeds from the sale of microfilm are deposited in the trust fund account from which microfilm expenses are paid. The excess above costs is used to expand reproduction facilities, explore new techniques of reproduction, and microfilm additional records.

The current price of microfilm reflects the second general price increase in 25 years. It is the policy of the National Archives to raise prices only when it is necessary to maintain the solvency of the revolving fund. The increased prices at this time are brought on by increases in the cost of film stock and chemicals, boxes and reels, and postage, as well as by salaries. A fixed price per roll has been established because most of the costs of reproducing and selling microfilm are the same for all rolls of film, regardless of length, and the establishment of such a price permits a substantial saving in order-processing costs.
